PHONE, POWER SERVICE CUT AS POLE HIT

A telephone pole, carrying both power and telephone wires, at the corner of Queen and Concession Sts., was struck by a car at 1 a.m. this morning and knocked over. The driver of the car is said to have failed to report the accident to the police, who are investigating.

A second car ran over the telephone cable which had been left lying across Queen St., when the pole was broken and snapped it.

A Bell telephone gang, and men of the water and light department were at work early this morning restoring the power and phone service. A primary transformer was burned out in the accident. Power was off on Queen St. west to Main St. and on Concession and Wellington Sts. Telephone connections were broken in the immediate area of the accident.

Former Newmarket Scholar Buys Barrie Drug Store

George Caldwell, the son of Mrs. T. A. Caldwell, Newmarket, has purchased Barrie's drug store in Barrie. Born in Barrie in 1907, Mr. Caldwell came to Newmarket with his family while still a youngster and was educated at Newmarket public and high schools.

He served his drug store apprenticeship with Harry Smith, who operated a drug store in Barrie, from 1927 to 1930 and after attending the Ontario College of Pharmacy from 1930 to 1932, he worked with a drug firm. In 1933, he returned to Barrie where he entered partnership with Herbert G. Robertson, whose business he has now bought.

Mrs. Caldwell is the former Lillian Knox of Barrie, and there are two children, Garry, age nine, Marilyn, age six.

Active in Culler St. United church, Mr. Caldwell was an elder three years and served seven years as Sunday-school treasurer. He is Scoutmaster of 3rd Barrie troop, which meets at the church. He also serves as chairman of the salvage committee, which work has been taken over by the Scouts.

As a member of the Masonic Order, Mr. Caldwell is a past master of Canthian Lodge and a member of the Lodge of Perfection and the Rose Croix. The house at 1 Charlotte St., where Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell reside, is the fifth oldest brick house in Barrie and was built in 1867 by the grandfather of the present owner.

Tells Of Friends Taking Supplies To Warring City

In a recent letter home, Francis Starr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Starr, Pleasantville, tells of the delivery to a beleaguered city of supplies by the Friends Ambulance Unit to which he is attached. The text of his letter follows:

Since moving into Honan our outfit has had its fingers in a variety of relief projects. One of the most interesting and unusual was the delivery of some medical supplies to the besieged city of Yunknien, Hopei.

Last year when the Japs surrendered, the troops now inside Yungnien took control of the city. Shortly after this the Communists advanced into that area and surrounded the city. They cut it off completely from the rest of the world but so far have been unable to capture it. The Communists claim that the forces inside are former Jap puppets and have sworn to destroy them. Much of the trouble seems to spring from the fact that the commander on the outside is a former underling of the commander on the inside and there is a bitter, personal feud between them.

In March a team from the Cease-fire Commission of Americans, Nationalists and Communists visited Yungnien in an endeavor to negotiate peace. The mission was a failure and they reported that the people of Yungnien were dying at the rate of 20 per day and that scurvy and beri-beri were rampant. Soon after this news reached F.A.U., our men were hurrying around interviewing all the generals they could find on both sides. After days and days of talking, we finally got the O.K.'s necessary to let us into Yungnien.

General Li of Changteh loaned us some trucks and as my work there was about finished, I was asked to pick out the best one and get it into shape for the expedition. When we were

REV. J. A. SMITH INDUCTED AT ST. ANDREW'S

St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Newmarket, passed another milestone Thursday night when Rev. J. A. Smith, B.A., formerly of the chaplaincy service, was inducted as minister of the church by officials of the Toronto Presbytery. A large congregation turned out to the service, presided over by the moderator of the Presbytery, Rev. Jas. Milroy, M.A., Rogers Memorial church, and to welcome the new minister.

Mr. Smith was born on Cape Breton Island, N.S., the son of Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Smith, who are now living at Scotstown, Que. He received his early education in the southern United States, and returned to the Presbyterian College, Montreal, for his theological education. Upon graduation, he served as a missionary at Forester's Falls, and later as minister at Ancaster, Ont., until called to the chaplaincy service in October, 1944.

The sermon at the induction service was given by Rev. Chas. Hay, M.A., of Leaside, one of the younger ministers, and the address to the minister and congregation was given by Rev. Ross R. Cameron, M.A., of Dovercourt Rd. Rev. Edgar Foreman, B.A., of Morningside, Swansea, clerk of the Presbytery, outlined the steps leading up to the time the call was extended to Mr. Smith and the moderator questioned and inducted the minister-elect.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Sunday-school room where Rev. Alex. McLean of Westminster, Wiltondale, who, as interim moderator has served St. Andrew's throughout the vacancy, received with representatives of church organizations, introducing those present to the new minister.

Several members of the Newmarket Ministerial Association were present, bringing greetings from their churches. Refreshments were served with Mrs. J. D. Faris and Mrs. W. M. Cockburn pouring tea.

As the membership has increased, members are advised that games will be controlled by a blackboard system, thus assuring everyone of an equitable share of play. Joyce Bothwell, Charles Lee or Keith Davis are handling membership enquiries.

PAINTING SAID GOOD QUALITY AT ART SHOW

By Fred Hagan, Pickering College Staff Artist

The recently organized Newmarket Arts club presented the first exhibition of its members' work last week in the town hall. The club is to be congratulated on its initial attempt to show publicly the work being done by Newmarket residents who are interested in the arts. Special supports were built to greatly increase the hanging space of the hall and lights were placed so that it was possible to see and fully appreciate all the work shown.

The pictures were unfortunately hung with rather poor judgment, so that the total impression of the exhibition was scattered and bewildering to the eye. It is easily understood how difficult it is to organize an attempt such as this, yet it seems obvious that an exhibition of any work must be presented with the maximum of unity and taste. The club, following the practice of allotting space to exhibitors and allowing them to hang their own works, lost an opportunity of providing a well planned exhibition. With each contributor arranging his work according to his own fancy, the general effect could not be expected to be anything but disturbing, and disturbing it was.

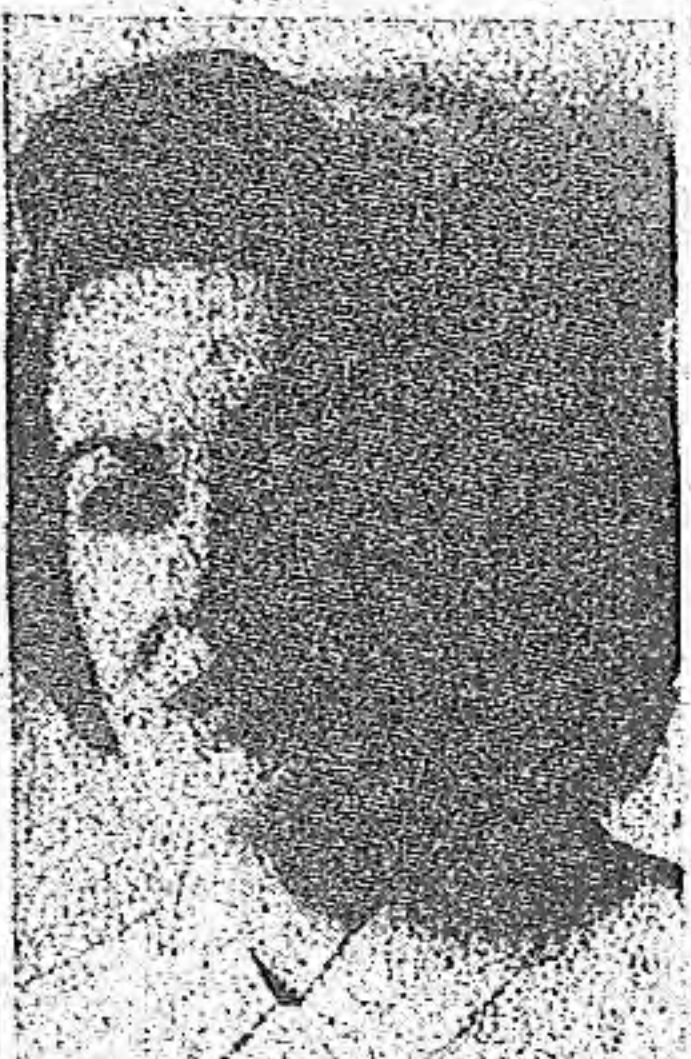

The pictures and a few carved panels are witness to much dreaming and toil on the part of their creators. Many hours and days of work have gone into these products of Newmarket and considerable satisfaction and contentment found by the producers. If but a small part of that satisfaction and pleasure was felt by the visitors to the exhibition, the work was not in vain.

Many approaches to picture-making were displayed, watercolor, charcoal, chalk, carving, but the most successful paintings were done in oil. The complete manner with which this medium was used is surprising at times, particularly in two smaller works of winter streams, with their coldness suddenly relieved by the intense warmth found in surrounding tree trunks. It was heartening to see some use being made of figures in a composition of a street corner, which, were it not for the constantly hard edges of the brush strokes, would have been a most complete painting.

The portraits shown did not possess any of the virtues of portraiture, the most satisfying characterization being considerably injured by the placing of an over-sized signature on a disagreeable background. Portraiture is, of all the fields of creative work, the most difficult in practice, yet it is the most gratifying when mastered and more readily understood and appreciated by the onlooker. It is easy for all of us to recollect the attempts as young children to draw mommy or daddy, the big circle for a body, smaller for a head, dots for eyes, nose and buttons, strokes for mouth, legs and arms. If it was necessary to create a different appearance, curly lines would always make a mommy out of daddy. These were the features that counted with us as children and we simply put them on record. Sometimes we had crayons and would color these figures or add other lines to the picture until we were satisfied, then away to some other play. There was no thought of making pictures in these scribbles, only the pleasure of recording our sensations while they remained with us. When that was done, the work was complete.

RECORD FALLS IN HIGH JUMP AT PICKERING

John Maguire of Toronto established a new intermediate high jumping record of 5 feet, 6 1/4 inches, at the annual meet of Pickering College Saturday.

Competition was keen with 148 athletes competing in 90 track and 19 field events.

In keeping with the policy of the school, there were no individual champions declared. The emphasis was on team competition with every pupil included, from bantam to senior.

The school is divided into three teams, Red, Blue and Silver, with six age classifications. Competition on a point basis continues throughout the academic year culminating in the annual field day. Points are awarded for archery, tennis, hockey, baseball, basketball, soccer, gym, and track and field. To assure a maximum number of competitors, pupils are restricted to five entries in the track and field meet.

The Red team were school champions with a total of 1,584 points for the year. The Blues were second with 1,573, and the Silvers third with 1,572.

ATTENDS MEETING

Mrs. J. A. Koffend, Newmarket, sectional vice-president of the Toronto Presbyterial of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian church in Canada, attended the district annual meeting May 29 at Thornhill.

After being postponed Friday because of wet weather, the Newmarket high school had its field day Monday with Tom Dales, Lloyd Powell and Bob Winch coming out on top as senior, intermediate and junior boys' champions. Runners-up in the same order were Bob McNern, Stallard Waterhouse and Gordon Firth.

In the girls' events, Ruth Hill, Pat Duncan and Mary Ellen McNern were senior, intermediate and junior champions. Runners-up in the same order were Eileen Jackson, Lois Blight and Jean Webster (tied) and Winnifred DeLaHaye.

Seven school records tumbled as the boys and girls put forth their best efforts.

In the junior girls' events, Mary Ellen McNern jumped 7 ft. 4 1/4 inches in the standing broad to beat the former mark of 7 ft. 3 inches.

In the senior boys' events, Tom Dales beat the running broad jump mark of 19 ft. 3 inches by 2 1/2 inches. Don King hurled the discus an inch over the old mark of 125 ft. 4 inches.

Three records fell in the intermediate section. Doug McNern ran the 100 yd. dash in 11 seconds to cut 2 off the old record. Stallard Waterhouse ran the 440 in 1.65 with the old record being 2.1. Lloyd Powell jumped seven inches farther in the hop, step and jump event to make a new record of 34 ft. 7 inches.

Gordon Firth jumped 8 ft. 11 1/4 inches in the junior standing broad events, 4 1/2 inches better than the old record.

Our share of the program is underway but local merchants have sold very little D.D.T., so it is quite obvious that the efforts of the citizens have been disappointing.

Already mosquitoes are a nuisance in parts of the town and they will undoubtedly be very much worse by the end of the month unless we start on them right away. The recent rains have made conditions ideal for mosquito breeding, so unless the people will co-operate, it will be a banner year for mosquitoes.

Again, let us remind you that standing water, damp shady corners and marshy grass are the breeding places for mosquitoes. So get your D.D.T. right away and spray your cellars and all suspicious spots in your backyards. If this warning is neglected please don't blame your board of health for sleepless nights.

Query Youths After Gas Fouls Crowded Theatre

Newmarket police were called Monday night to the Strand theatre, when a foul smelling gas was released in the theatre causing a near panic.

A youth, 16, was questioned by the police and Morley McPhee, manager of the theatre, said that charges would be laid against the lad and possibly against two companions.

Under the federal Theatre Act, such an offence carries with it a minimum penalty of a $500 fine, said Mr. McPhee.

Mr. McPhee said that it was the second time the gas had been released in the theatre and on each occasion patrons had been forced out by the strong odors. He said that a bottle containing an acid, and a cloth bag containing a sulphur compound had been found in one of the seats of the theatre. The gas was caused by lowering the sulphur mixture into the acid.

"The danger is not in the gas, although it is very foul smelling, but in the possibility that its release in a crowded theatre might cause a panic bringing death or serious injury to many," said Mr. McPhee.

THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1946

TWO DECADES AS PRIME MINISTER

On June 10, the Right Honorable William Lyon Mackenzie King will enter his 20th year of office as prime minister. On that date, he will have held office for a longer period of time than the head of any government in the world today has held a similar office.

Mr. King is not a popular leader. He has neither the color nor the public appeal that has marked others in high places. He lacks the common touch. Of great personal charm, he is uncomfortable in a crowd. Yet Canadians have cast their ballot for him to return him to office in six general elections.

Mr. King's terms of office have spanned an era which saw Canada approach full nationhood. During his terms of office, Canada struggled through the later years of the depression, embarked upon a war which strained her resources to the utmost, and emerged in this first year of peace a nation of considerable consequence in international world affairs.

Yet, there is not in this growth the associations of grand leadership. There was no fighting speech such as rallied England after Dunkirk. Mr. King was not the leader but the reconciliator. Sensitive to public feeling, he was able to weld the conflicting pressures of public opinion into broad action. Canada's maturing was unostentatious and polite, stamped with the character of the man who led the nation during those formative years.

In international politics, Mr. King's role has again been that of the reconciliator. He has served as the mediator between England and the United States. It has been a cherished role, one often referred to in his public addresses. Perhaps, when the history books are written, it will be as the binding link between the United States and England that Mr. King will be best remembered.

It has been during his years of office that social legislation has become an essential part of domestic government. With the training and experience he has possessed, Mr. King has been most positive in his actions where they have concerned social welfare. In the close of a recent address, Mr. King said: "I fought for measures of social security and national well-being in season and out of season, in parliament and out of parliament, in this country and in other countries. I have fought for them wherever the opportunity presented itself, and win or lose in the future, I intend to fight for them to the end of my days."

YOUR CONTRIBUTION HELPS BUILD PEACE

The future peace for the world depends in large measure upon the rehabilitation of Europe. A Europe left to starvation and depression becomes not only the breeding ground for incitements to future wars but it ceases to be a market for Canadian exports. Without those markets, Canada cannot enjoy prosperity. It is therefore in our national interest as well as in the interest of humanity that Canadians do all they can to help alleviate the continent-wide anguish left by war.

There are many ways in which Canadians can help. As a nation, we are committed to heavy food shipments and so far, those commitments have been fulfilled and in some cases exceeded. Canada has been one of the few supplier nations to adhere to its food contracts. Our government, with the full support of the people, has given generously of actual supplies and credit.

With so much needed, it would be folly to sit back and assume that the government is discharging all our obligations for us. Voluntary contributions must continue to make up the difference. At the present time, for example, the Society of Friends is conducting a campaign to raise $30,000 to purchase 32 tons of cod liver oil for European children. Eight tons have been purchased so far but the Friends committee still urgently needs all the financial support it can have. Contributions can be sent to the Canadian Friends War Victims Relief Fund, 113 Maitland St., Toronto.

From June 17 to 29, a campaign will be conducted for contributions of used clothing. Wearing apparel and bedding are urgently needed in Europe. All householders are urged to start saving clothing for all ages for collection during the two weeks of the campaign.

It can not be stressed too often that these repeated appeals are made for more than sentimental reasons. The extent that Canadians respond to these appeals is an exact estimation of how far they are prepared to go to prevent a third and final war. We have learned from bitter experience that this is one world and it must be a world of equality, not a world of half starvation and half prosperity. By giving freely we do our share in guaranteeing a lasting peace.

GOOD FARM MANAGEMENT ESSENTIAL

Farming is a way of life but it is also a business enterprise and like all other business enterprises, has a debit column as well as a profit bookkeeping practices applicable to a well managed business enterprise are not always suitable for the farm. Its seasonal rush and the dawn-to-dusk routine discourage regular bookkeeping by the farmer. After a full day in the fields and with an early rising ahead of him, no farmer is anxious for a session with his ledgers.

Yet some sort of bookkeeping is essential if a farm is to be well managed. Agricultural authorities, recognizing this, have in recent years turned their attention to providing the farmer with a set of fundamental principles by which he can manage his farm with the accent on profit. Such information is available on application to the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, or to the agricultural office at Newmarket.

In the meantime, here are some observations as set down by one authority, Mr. H. B. Sommerfeldt, Ph.D., farm manager for a finance corporation in Winnipeg.

Defining good farm management as knowing how to organize all farm production to provide the best return over a period of years, Dr. Sommerfeldt emphasizes study of the demand for a product, the quality of the product, and the possible price received for it as factors in planning production. For example, he warns against extending livestock facilities, especially on borrowed capital, at the present time because of the experience after the First Great War when there was considerable speculation.

Dr. Sommerfeldt says that self-sufficiency in home needs should be carefully planned on every well organized farm. If egg prices drop, for example, eggs should be packed for home use instead of marketed at loss. He urges a vegetable garden for family needs. Farm implements, he points out, are often borrowed, or exchanged. Suggesting that a definite value should be put on such borrowing, Dr. Sommerfeldt says "one should not expect one's neighbor to keep his equipment in repair for use and abuse by others."

Essential to good farm management is the keeping of records for all expenditures and returns. Such accounts indicate much which is unknown to the farmer in his financing. Buildings and equipment should be inventoried and a long range plan for rebuilding and replacement prepared. It stands to reason that those who keep records know what they are doing, essential to a well managed farm. Guesswork doesn't pay in the farming business any more than in other business enterprises.

The barrage of May 24 gun powder had an unsettling effect on Newmarket's four-legged inhabitants. A frightened cotton tail raced out of a driveway and walked in the shadow of a dog for a 100 feet or so before either the dog or the rabbit realized the company they were keeping. The rabbit won the race to the underbrush.

It is encouraging to see the township council of East Gwillimbury passing a by-law to prevent the dumping of rubbish on the roadsides. It is a practice that is carried on without any thought to cleanliness and the sight of a rubbish-littered road allowance does not reflect much credit on the municipality that permits it. Members of the East Gwillimbury council are to be congratulated for their stand. It is to be hoped that the by-law will be sternly enforced.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

DISTRICT ANNUAL

Mrs. A. VanNostrand, Vaudorf, said that no resolution had reached her, so had no report to give, but she emphasized a fact we should give heed to, that resolutions are our way of making our wants known to the government, and that if we do not take the trouble to compile resolutions about things we want rectified, we cannot complain if they continue to offend us. Newmarket handed in a resolution at the meeting. Resolved that as Bangs disease affects both cattle and humans, inspection should be compulsory.

Mrs. B. Sinclair then gave the report of the nominating committee and Miss Kidd from the department took the floor. After expressing her pleasure in being in Newmarket, she said that work must not stop with the war. A great work, that of cleaning up, lies ahead. The need for clothing is just as great. She said that all lines of work in our Institutes should be kept up and reported and worked at. Conventions should have reports in at least two weeks ahead. They should be clear, concise, not too long, cover highlights and offer suggestions for future work. We need co-operation in the future equally as much as in the past. Next year the Institute will celebrate its 50th anniversary. At present we have approximately 35,000 members in Ontario. It is our aim to have 55,000 for the anniversary.

We should read Home and Country, have carefully selected, good and enthusiastic leaders, have constructive programs, have tolerance and the ability to cut out prejudice. We should use the W.I. department loan library. We should have good community centres and interest young women in W.I. work. We should try to make more food available for overseas, buy only what we need and use it all. We must be educated to give the best that is in us.

At the conclusion of Miss Kidd's address, we adjourned for luncheon. It was pleasant to go back to the way of bygone years and all have our meal together. An excellent and appetizing luncheon was served by the ladies of St. Andrew's and we all felt the better for the little break. I will write up the afternoon session next week.

DISTRICT ANNUAL - AFTERNOON

The excellent luncheon served by the ladies of St. Andrew's church put everyone in good humor for the afternoon session, which opened with the singing of the Maple Leaf, for as your scribe said, it is a Newmarket product, and as such, should be used at some time during any meeting.

Mrs. Boak, our president, then spoke. She spoke simply, briefly, feelingly, and to the point. She said that peace can only be gained by suffering and sacrifice. Let us forge ahead, as we can do, for we are large in intelligence and character. Never, said she, have we had such an opportunity for growth and development. We need and we have enthusiastic leaders, and if we co-operate we will attain all our objectives—the principal to disseminate knowledge in home economics.

We then heard the Federation of Agriculture report given by Mrs. B. Sinclair. The farm help situation is acute, one of the troubles being no adequate accommodation for help. They should have security and better homes. The Institutes should study production, marketing, selling in world markets. In the study we need knowledge, sincerity and money, if we are to encourage the youth to come back to the farms, for the juniors of today are the farmers of tomorrow. It was suggested that pay by the hour would make farm help more anxious to work each hour — and send a petition to the government to pay 33 1/2 percent more to make us for extra expense.

Publicity, this year, was reported by Mrs. L. Rolling. She said that it is instinctive for women to wish to avoid publicity, but our very existence creates habits which are bound to cause ripples among those with whom we come in contact. Publicity is a personal matter and a media through which each of us speaks. It behooves us to put publicity on a par with other reports for it is the stop, look, listen of the Institutes.

We must look to the past for experience, present for inspiration, and future for hope. We should use press, telephone, contacts hand book, printed programs, Blue Cross hospitalization plan—all these to show what we are doing and working for.

Mrs. P. Hamilton, our federal representative, spoke next. The federated board is our parliament and our representative takes back a report to the district. We must help new presidents and secretaries, and this is the time to start new branches.

We are, even yet, too narrow. We must broaden out, support UNRRA and acquaint ourselves with the Associated Countrywomen of the World. We must change our ideas to conform to progress, especially study our boys' viewpoint. We must cultivate the ability to get along with others, and be serene, wise, cheerful. Meetings should not bore or fire. A ten-minute paper and ten-minute discussion might be helpful. We should support good magazines and ban poor ones, which at present are flourishing. Institute centers being returned to us may be used in nutrition work. The village histories are being compiled in many places. The junior girls' groups have two representatives on the federated board.

Nobleton was responsible for a very delightful musical interlude at this point. I am sorry not to have the artist's name, but she sang The Valley of Laughter and an encore, which were enjoyed.

Miss Rowe of the department then spoke on the girls' work. She was glad of the support moral and tangible, being given the girls' work. The Home-makers clubs give good members to the Institutes for their members are experienced in public speaking, the conducting of meetings and working together. They learn how to buy, to select styles and materials, and to make them up. She advised girls from 12 to 26 to form clubs. Twenty-two branches responded to roll-call.

Mrs. Goodaire of Toronto spoke very eloquently on the Blue Cross Plan. This plan started 15 years ago in Texas. There are five centres in Canada. It is sponsored by the hospitals. It has no connection with any group; there is no medical examination necessary and no age limit. Forty percent of any group must join, and they must be members of that group for six months. The plan does not cover doctor's fees or special service. Quite a few who have already benefitted spoke in favor of the plan.

The election of officers came next with few changes. Miss Kidd conducted the election and Mrs. Marchand acted as secretary. It was decided to have a standing and plurality vote.

The president, Mrs. Boak, retains office. Mrs. B. Sinclair will be our secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Marchand our federal representative, Mrs. Boak, alternative. Mrs. Weir is convener for the Federation of Agriculture. I hope that is correct. Mrs. Rolling retired from publicity, Mrs. Colville and Mrs. Shoultz, convener; Mrs. Steeper and Mrs. Macpherson, Mount Albert, auditors. Laskay not being represented, the brief bag was presented in absentia and one of the most outstanding district annuals in a long line of distinguished ones, came to an end with the singing of God Save the King.

GOSPEL ECHOES

By Rev. A. B. Stein, pastor, Christian church, Newmarket.

During these days of strain and upheaval, we need to be reminded that the Bible contains the message of God which is "still the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth." The Bible is more widely circulated today than ever in history, yet the outstanding failure of Christian people has been their failure to read God's word.

We live in a day when progress has been made in every conceivable realm, but also in a day in which our growth in the knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ and God's word has not kept pace with other developments. Let us rid ourselves of any such thought that to possess a copy of the Bible, lends some mystic blessing to our homes. That is no more true than for us to suppose that because we possess a text book on higher mathematics, which we have never opened, it is going to enable us to solve the problems of Euclid. The only benefit the Bible will be in our homes or in national life, will be derived by reading it, assimilating it, and applying its truths to our daily experiences. "Power or belongeth unto God," spake the apostle of old. If we are to know that power it will be by our feeding on the living word and ever seeking the divine presence.

Regardless of the modern trend to dissect the Bible and claim that part is God's word and part is not—a trend which results only in dulling the appetite of men to read it—the power to produce faith, power to equip for service, power to bring conviction and salvation—in short to bring about within us a change by which we are conformed to the image of His Son. Nothing else in the world attempts to or can do it. Further, this Book has power to make one wise. In Psalm 1 we read: "Blessed is the man who delights in the law of the Lord, and in that law meditates day and night."

The one who studies the Bible, if he does not study any other book, knows more of real wisdom, wisdom that counts for time and eternity, wisdom that this perishing world needs, wisdom for which hungry hearts

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Send your questions to Mrs. Dorothy Bowman, P.O. box 144,

Last week completed the series of articles based on the ten weekly lectures on child psychology and parent-education delivered by Dr. Karl Bernhardt of the University of Toronto to the Newmarket Home and School Association during the winter. This series of articles will be printed in pamphlet form during the summer.

At this time I wish to thank those readers who have personally expressed an interest in this column. I adore hearing about your young juniors and young misses. Besides your present problems with them, I welcome your past problems and the practical solutions you found for them. Your own experiences as parents or teachers can help other parents and teachers through this column. This is your column and I hope you continue to use it. Helpful suggestions will be very much appreciated.

Thus far our young hopefuls seem to be causing most concern in the realms of eating and discipline. Three-year-old Junior doesn't like turnips, parsnips, beets, spinach or cauliflower. It almost seems as if he has inherited his sense of taste from his father who dislikes the same vegetables. Actually, Junior has heard his father voice his complaints and is merely imitating his hero. All his mother's talk about the vegetables he must eat if he wants to grow up to be a big man like his father isn't half as impressive as the fact that his father doesn't eat them. The question in this instance seems to be, "What will we do with father?"

It's too bad our little four-year-old Miss's mother cuts the crusts off the bread because she doesn't like them. (In all fairness to the mother, the crusts are saved for dressing.) At a little party the other day, the children laughed and made fun of Miss when she announced that she didn't eat crusts when the plate of sandwiches was passed. Ever since, our Miss has refused to eat bread. Guess it's about time mother started eating crusts on her bread as an example. They are really not too hard to chew if they are well buttered. Try making very thin sandwiches with the filling spread right to the edges. After Miss learns to eat crusts, she will probably enjoy them and besides, she will be able to regain her prestige socially at the next children's party.

The two-year-old twins may be competing for their mother's attention at mealtime. To supervise the feeding of twins must be rather exciting to say the least. Perhaps, if they were fed with a head-high partition dividing their table, they would be calmer. Young children are distracted so easily by the things they see and hear. The partition could be used as a means of discipline when conduct is disorderly. If it is possible to determine the first offender, it might be advisable to quietly remove that individual from the table. Ordinarily, it seems advisable to allow children to eat alone until they are old enough to have a few distractions. However, with the twins who are constant companions, it might be more distracting to separate them during meals. It's difficult enough for a mother to remain visibly and audibly calm when only one child is throwing food and spilling milk without a repeat of this type behavior on the other side of the table.

In helping the child form good eating habits the problem is to create an appetite, not to fuss about not eating. Certain points must be considered carefully: fatigue, too much excitement, constipation, emotional crisis, regularity of eating, sleeping and elimination.

are starving today, than the man who reads every other book and neglects the Bible. The men who have made the most lasting contributions to the world were Bible loving men. We have seen men without culture, without high scholastic standing who really knew their Bible, and we would rather sit at their feet and learn the wisdom that falls from their lips, than listen to the man who knows much about science, philosophy and theology even, and does not know anything of the experimental knowledge of God's presence which the Word of God alone will bring.

This does not mean that God has no place for scholarship. He has a very great place for it, particularly in our modern world. But to be of any use to God or His Kingdom it must be thoroughly consecrated to His will. Our greatest heritage today is this Book we call the Bible. It is God's message to man and can no more be destroyed than God can be destroyed. Let us then get back to the Book, back to the God who gave it.

DEPICTING

By J. JAY WATSON

I visited last week what I choose for illustrative purposes to call "Aspiration Hall." Aspiration is yearning for something higher or better. My visit was to the art exhibit held in the town hall in Newmarket.

I can imagine an artist sitting down to paint a landscape — he wants to transfer the view before him in perspective to canvas. His heart is in his work, and as he outlines and fills in on his canvas the view before him, the yearning for veracity in expression, is taking shape on the canvas. His skill is delineating, and in retouching may make manifest the hoped for realism.

As I viewed the exhibits the question arose in my mind: "How do we paint life?" I like to think that in life we are all artists in a sense. There is inherent in man a yearning for the higher and better. For the development of this, if we will use and translate into life well chosen Sunday-school lessons as a brush for the "filling in," we will possess the material out of which worthiness in life is fashioned.

These "lessons," through life, with time and experience will supply the "retouching" for the promise of a well spent and happy life. Thus giving answer to the query, "How do we paint life?"

EULA POLLOCK

IS JUNE BRIDE

Keswick United church was the setting for the wedding on Saturday, June 1, of Eula Margaret Pollock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pollock, Keswick, and Leonard William Burch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burch, Mona Centre. Miss Margaret Fockler, Maple, was at the organ and Miss Lillian Connell, Keswick, was soloist. Rev. Gordon Lapp performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. C. E. Fockler, Maple.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was becomingly attired in white slipper satin fashioned on princess lines. Her finger-tip embroidered veil was arranged from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a small white Bible with streamers done in Sweetheart roses and forget-me-nots.

Miss Reva Pollock, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore baby blue corded tulle with a nosegay of sweet peas and roses and a headdress of white tulle.

Mr. Donald Burch, Newmarket, was his brother's best man. The ushers were Messrs. Jerald and Robert Pollock, brothers of the bride, and Mr. Howard Newton, brother-in-law of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received in a pale blue crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother received in pale mauve crepe with mauve and white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

For travelling to Muskoka Lakes the bride donned a bluish pink jersey dress with bluish pink and brown accessories. The young couple will live in Toronto.

We salute this week one of the district's finest yet most unobtrusive sportsmen, Harry Davis, of St. Andrew's College. Harry coaches the cricket club, is grounds-keeper, and runs the tuck-shop at the Aurora prep school, a job he has handled quietly for 34 years. That he has endeared himself to thousands of school boys goes without saying to anyone who has the pleasure of knowing the quiet, soft spoken "Harry." He was a cricket professional in England at the age of 16, played with Essex county, and came to Canada bound for St. Andrew's, then at Rosedale, 34 years ago. He's never regretted it either.

Cricket, which draws thousands of spectators in England and Australia, will probably be called "a dull game" as it was by Lord Inverchapel, the new British ambassador to Washington, the other day, but since the 12th century, it has been a vital part of English life. It was once played in every small town in Ontario, but gave way to baseball and lacrosse and today is only played in the prep schools and certain cricket clubs in the bigger cities. It has come to be regarded as a genteel game, played by the elite. While not too spectacular to watch unless you understand the fine points, it gives plenty of sport and exercise to the participants, requires brains and intestinal fortitude and is a great character builder. It's very leisurely—ness is out of time with the North American speed but take a gander at the kids as you pass S.A.C. or U.C.C., better still watch for an hour or two, and you'll find it sort of grows on you. Ever try to catch a cricket ball, bare-handed? Brother it really stings.

Harry has had his good teams and his bad ones. This year is a bit above average, he says, but he's not forecasting a Little Big Four title. Aside from cricket, where he's an expert, boxing is Harry's next big love, and for his age he's still plenty handy with his "dooks." Proud of his school, proud of his former boys, and typically "school tie" although he has never worn one in Canada, Harry rates in our books as "a real gent." Here's wishing his eleven success, for nothing would please him more than a championship this year. Why not take a jaunt over to St. Andrew's some sunny Saturday before the school closes for a spot of cricket and a bit of chit-chat at the tea hour. You'll become a fan.

Johnny Callanan, one of the most popular athletes to play for Newmarket camp over the years, is going great guns for B.B.M. in the Dovercourt Senior "B" circuit. He seems to be pretty well recovered from the back injury which plagued his hockey career last winter. Callanan is now a free agent at hockey. Latest official lists show the Black Hawks and their farm clubs have dropped him from their negotiation lists, which means he'll be sticking to amateur from now on.

Through the courtesy of Miss D. Pinard, secretary to Red Dutton, we received our annual copy of the professional hockey records, and we spent a few moments thumbing through it, although we'll use it more extensively comes fall. Del Beaumont, former Aurora junior captain, last year with Georgetown intermediates, is still on the list of Toronto Maple Leafs which must mean something for Smythe has pared it pretty well. Bob Love, who played with navy last year against Newmarket, is listed with Rangers, as of course is Al Kuntz, ex-armored corps. Curry of navy fame is on Canadiens' list, last year being with Montreal Royals, Ken Grivel another ex-tar known in Newmarket, is listed with Cleveland, and strange as it may seem the same club still holds some sort of mythical title to Larry Molyneux, listed on the voluntarily retired list, but needing their permission if he wants to play amateur.

Walter Zuke, ex-speedboy of Newmarket camp, '44, last season with Soo Atomics, Ontario intermediate winners, is shown as owned by Buffalo, as is Bobby Thorpe, ex-Brampton camp star, now playing lacrosse in Quebec City. Springfield, due for a return to competition, has Jeff Desilets, ex-Stratford-Toronto army sensation, and Pee-wee Summerhill of Toronto army, and Sandy Milne of navy. Normie Mann, not likely to return to pro, is still shown on the Pittsburgh list although he played amateur by permission last winter. Billy Wilson is shown on the Tulsa list along with Hughie Mair, and as we omitted to give Bill's scoring records earlier we do so now.

The Aurora-Newmarket ex-tar played only 19 games of the 56-game schedule due to injuries, but in those 19 contests scored a dozen goals and an equal number of assists for a 24-point total, and spent nary a minute in the penalty box. If he had been able to go the season Bill would undoubtedly have been one of the most potent marksmen in the league. So much for hockey.

Whitely Jones turned in the best golf score of the season at the Highlands Golf club last week. Jones always one of the best around despite his youth, sizzled around the nine-hole in 36, one over the par 35, and he threatens to crack old man par anytime now. Just in case you've been wondering what's become of Bert Wright, former professional at the Highlands club (it was Aurora then), and Aurora resident, he can be located over at Lindsay where he is the pro at the up and coming Lindsay club. Likes it too, and the members reciprocate. Mrs. Wright expects to join her husband soon. The Lindsay club, unlike most smaller clubs, is not entirely dependent upon play for its success.

Canada's Gift doesn't refer to lend-lease, it's the name of a new two-year-old owned by Billy Taylor of Toronto Leafs and Newmarket camp. It's not Billy's first horse either. "The Kid," who is an inveterate player of horses, figures he might as well own one. It's a full brother to Sam's Gift, who won it's maiden last week.

Trotting enthusiasts are going to have something to stand up and cheer about come August when the Canadian Futurity will be held at Long Branch for three-year-olds with a purse value of $7,000, the biggest for a single harness event in Canada. There are plenty of entries, the Earl Rowe's Van Riddell, Miss Dusty Gratton owned by Fred McDonald of Beaverton, Admiral G. owned by G. Rowntree of Weston, and Weedale owned by Wilf Farr of Weston, from the district.

Ginger Hall, erstwhile hockey net-minder for Sutton Greenshirts, is stopping them the hard way this summer—in the lacrosse nets for Barrie Lake-shores of the O.L.A. senior circuit and is plenty good. Goals in the local intermediate lacrosse league are all top-flight performers and have been sensational to date. Al Cox, formerly of Malton, is tending the nets for Woodbridge and has the best goal average so far. Alf Stong of Richmond Hill has been a standout in the twine cage for years and is as good as ever despite a lay-off. Harry Rumble of Maple, the smallest of the quartet, played a sweet game for Maple, and despite his stature is tough to beat. Smith of Combines has played well despite his lack of experience. A lot of the goals that have been him were of the soft variety, but the hard ones have been handled nicely in most cases. A team in any sport can't be much better than its goalie.

Jack Johnston, who played on the Aurora defence over ten years ago with your operator and Ollie Whitmore, is still going strong. Jack is with Nortonville on the Peel county lacrosse circuit, and is steady as the proverbial rock and dangerous on the attack. Midland has an intermediate lacrosse club in the hands of coach Jack Rutherford of hockey fame and is beating the drums for a four-club league, as yet in the mythical stage as near as we can make out, composed of Bradford (no signs of activity there), Camp Borden and Barrie. If the league is going to function it had better start soon. Weston was not admitted to the intermediate section of the North York league, but will be allowed to enter the juvenile series. The four teams voted them out in the top section.

Contrary to general opinion, there will be no closedown in the hot months in local lacrosse. In place of two games per week in July and early August, the boys will go to the mat once a week. Aug. 24 is set for play-off time, and there is a reasonably good chance that Aurora may be the venue for most games.

Ace Yake reports that a girls' league is due to be formed shortly, and will embrace Lansing, Thornhill, Aurora and Newmarket. The local gents paid a visit to Thornhill the other night, and found the community sports committee ready to field a team. Lansing played last season and has been awaiting opposition. It only remains for Orval Hisey and the lads to get together and put the details on paper. Schomberg girls are playing this season in a league with Beeton, Tottenham and Alliston and doing right well. The league, we understand, spurned Newmarket as being a bit too good for them.

Marg McCaman is appearing in a new role in her spare time. Three nights a week she is convening a coaching committee composed of some of Sunnyside's best players to teach the small fry out Swansea way the rudiments of softball. The recreation program for Swansea is going smoothly and girls' softball is an important part of the feminine program.

Syl Apps of Toronto Leafs was the guest speaker at a banquet tendered the juvenile and mid-ged hockeyists recently by Bradford Lions. Gus Bodnar was there too. Apps emphasized the following points: 1. Get a good night be plenty good in junior education. 2. Improve your skating, stick-handling, shooting, and passing with constant practice; keep trying, you can't get enough. In the summer keep up your shooting practice. 3. Keep in good condition (nix on the fags, kids). 4. Co-operation with your teammates and confidence in your own ability are requisites (Continued on Page 8)

"What the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, Frank, there's a whole tangle of troubles to be straightened out all over the world. Makes your head swim to think of it."

"And yet, Jim, most of it springs from one cause . . . suspicion. You and I wouldn't be very good neighbours if we suspected each other of all sorts of skulduggery. Actually, what the world needs is more good neighbours."

"Yes, the life insurance business is a good example. British life insurance companies have had offices in Canada since 1833 and several of our Canadian companies are well known throughout the United Kingdom."

"What about American companies?"

"We found it good business to be good neighbours with the American life insurance companies. We welcome them here. They carry almost one-third of all the life insurance in force in Canada. And our Canadian companies are well liked in the U.S.A. where they do a large and increasing business. As a matter of fact, they are well and favourably known throughout the world. Nearly half the business of the Canadian companies is outside Canada."

Life insurance is truly an international business—a neighbourly business. At home Canadians buy their life insurance as they choose from British or United States or Canadian companies. And our Canadian life insurance companies abroad! Who can assess the value to Canada of the confidence in the Dominion which they have built up over the years in their dealings with tens of thousands of foreign clients and of their services in establishing Canada's reputation for financial integrity and security throughout the world?

A message from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada and their agents.

TELLS OF FRIENDS

ready to go I had a truck with a good engine and good chassis but the brakes didn't work and neither did the starter but it had two horns. Motor oil was not available so we used castor oil and after more talk we got going.

In the cab with me rode a Communist guide and holding down the cargo were Jean Lui, F.A.U. nurse; Dr. Thompson, New Zealand F.A.U.; Jack Chen, F.A.U. negotiator and interpreter, and two Kuomintang representatives.

Changeth is at the north end of a Nationalist spearhead and two or three miles north of town we came to the Nationalist lines. The fortifications were rather impressive according to warfare in this land but a British or American army would go through and hardly notice them. We had another session of talking before we were given the green light into no man's land. Our passage through that area was as peaceful as could be expected but we had good reason to be thankful that a representative of the people was with us. There was no definite Communist line but as we came into Red territory our journey was occasionally interrupted by a guerrilla popping up out of a wheat field or from behind a tree and drawing a bead on us. I was quite impressed with the way these boys toyed with the hand grenades that dangled from their belts. The fat boy beside me would get out and say a few soothing words and the young fanatics would wave us on into the land of equality.

The public thoroughfares in that land were not made for high speed motor traffic and in many places we crept along in low gear. Late in the afternoon the truck crashed a bridge. We were far from any town so after eating a couple cans of beans we picked our spot for the night and went to bed early. I found a nice sandy place in a nearby wheat field and had a good sleep under the communal stars. During the night our Red friend had been rallying the people and early next morning a hundred or more "la bey shing" (common people) gathered around. First they removed the truck to safety and then they patched the bridge. Just to make sure we got across they pulled the truck over and gave us a good start for the day.

All that day we drove through country where the civil war had been very severe and most of the towns were just a collection of ruins. There are practically no signs of rebuilding which might seem to indicate a lack of confidence or something. Late in the afternoon we came to Hantan, Hopei, which is military and party headquarters for that section of Red land. We had to stop here to get our money changed (a Red dollar buys 7.1 Nationalist dollars) and get permits to go on. We were feasted, lectured and bedded at a party hostel. Supper was a fourteen course affair and it would have been fine if we could have gone to bed immediately afterward but instead we listened for hours about the bandit puppets of Yungnien and the many virtues of the Communist regime.

Hantan is quite a famous city and has carried that name for 3,000 years. It has been a favorite Chinese warring place for even longer. It was the largest Communist city we visited and seemed much the same as large populated places in so called Free China with a few notable exceptions. I did not see any rickshaws and that is very unusual in any Chinese town. I did not find out if they had been abolished by government decree or whether Communist ideology just makes it impossible for one man to pull another one about. There also appeared to be no rich people and no poor people. This is also very unusual as the beggars and rich men make quite a contrast in Nationalist territory.

I suspect they've been liquidated in Red land and certainly a man with possessions would know better than to display them. The people appeared to be no more oppressed than in Nationalist territory and as far as I could tell they were just as happy.

We journeyed on to Yungnien and the Jap truck got a real test as we bounced over wheat fields, irrigation ditches and grave yards and ploughed through desert sands and river beds. We arrived at Lanchow, which is as near Yungnien as we could take the truck, late in the afternoon. We were again feasted and then lectured long and emphatically about the bad boys of Yungnien. At about 10 p.m. word came in that boats had come from Yungnien to take the foreigners over so the other three went off into the unknown. I returned to the truck for the night and then took the supplies over the next day.

Yungnien is surrounded by about a mile of water. This state of affairs has been blamed on both parties but the city started it by opening the dykes of a nearby river to fill the moat with water. Later the Reds thought the town might be flooded out so they raised the water level by further diversion of the streams. The city wall is about 40 feet high and fully as thick so the town has not been flooded but its people have certainly been rendered helpless.

Ever since I crossed that mile or more of water from Lanchow to what seemed like another world, I've been trying to record the emotions caused by the trip, but they don't seem to be for words. We pulled out about noon with three small boats loaded with medicines, vitamins and food from the "la bey shing" of Canada, U.S.A. and Britain for the "la bey shing" of China. It was a grand gesture; those three small boats of brotherhood and mercy crossing the foul waters of hatred, lust and murder. Nevertheless, in many ways the whole thing seemed so futile as we were probably just prolonging the starvation period of some of our fellow men and then on the other hand we had come out here to help them and their enemies (the same amount of medical supplies as we took into Yungnien had been given to the Communist representative in Changth) and by setting them an example of selfishness we could only hope that our mission would ultimately result in some good. I suppose practically all human suffering is caused by human greed but this was the first time I had ever come in physical contact with men whose greed and hatred was causing suffering and death among their brothers. It was quite a different sensation from just reading about such people.

When we were rowed up to the city's north gate we were greeted with a military guard of honor and a horde of civic officials, all of whom appeared to be well fed and healthy. I had the questionable honor of meeting and shaking hands with the notorious General Shu, military commander of the city. The Communists had told us that he was an ex-bandit who had worked up to be divisional commander with the Japs. One glance at him convinced me that the Reds hadn't overrated his treachery. Never in all my life have I gazed on a more evil looking character. He made the Hollywood conception of a Chinese bandit look almost saint like. That night at supper I sat directly opposite him and I don't mind admitting that my usual lousy appetite was somewhat tamed.

Yungnien is an impressive and well ordered city but its streets were almost deserted and an atmosphere of death hung about the place. Not to be seen were the usual crowd of yelling kids and staring oldsters. Not a shop was open as there was nothing to buy and nothing to buy it with. The few people on the street looked as if they could hang on for sometime and those we saw of the six thousand troops were certainly not starving but most of the civilian population (about 25,000) just stayed in their homes and placidly waited for death or relief. Dr. Thompson had set up shop in the Catholic church but he found he couldn't do much because of interference from military and civic leaders. I slipped out to do a little inspecting of my own but I soon found that I was being trailed so didn't dare do any extensive snooping. As far as I could see, a spirit of lethargy prevailed among the people and no effort was being made to grow gardens although I saw quite a few people gathering weeds. I encountered a few dogs, one horse and two goats so it seemed that the people were starving in an orderly fashion with the poor going first and the property owners hanging on according to the amount of their possessions.

The next day we pulled out of the doomed city. There were four doctors in town who took

The Only Remedy for Hunger is FOOD!

THE most efficient way in which we can send increased bulk shipments of WHEAT, MEAT, CHEESE and EGGS to needy countries is through the Canadian government food Boards. These increased bulk shipments can only be made providing we reduce our own consumption. Here are five important ways by which we can make greater quantities of food available for export:

- (1) BUY AND USE LESS BREAD, FLOUR AND OTHER WHEAT PRODUCTS, MEAT, CHEESE AND EGGS. SUBSTITUTE VEGETABLES, FRUIT AND FISH WHERE POSSIBLE.
- (2) KEEP YOUR HOME STOCKS LOW - BUY ONLY ENOUGH FOR IMMEDIATE REQUIREMENTS.
- (3) AVOID ALL WASTE.
- (4) GROW A VICTORY GARDEN AGAIN THIS YEAR. PLANT MORE THIS TIME IF YOU CAN.
- (5) DONATE ANY MEAT COUPONS YOU CAN SPARE ENQUIRE AT YOUR LOCAL RATION BOARD.

LIFE'S BIGGER MOMENTS

And now you're going to be Married

Naturally you're walking on air ever since she whispered that magic word. If ever there is a time when a man is entitled to disregard the laws of gravity, it is during the dreamy days which follow the popping of the 64-dollar question.

However, if you'll just climb down from that cloud for a minute, we'd like to suggest a very practical step which you should take before the wedding bells ring out. This step is to call in the North American Life representative and check over your Life Assurance programme. Likely your new responsibilities call for some changes in your Life Assurance plans. You'll find him well informed on all aspects of insurance for young married people. He has helped many a young man to line up a sound Life Assurance programme which protects his family and fits neatly into his budget.

Combines' Garrison Finish Nets 5-4 Boxla Victory

In a sparkling lacrosse match that lacked nothing by way of thrills, Combines staged a garrison finish to defeat Maple 5-4 on Friday night at Aurora arena, and thereby chalk up their first win of the season. A drenching rain kept the crowd down below that of opening night, but those who were in attendance were well pleased with the improved play. Both goalies were well tested and stopped plenty of hot shots, and the final three goals that beat Harry Rumble in the Maple nets were surefire efforts against any netminder.

Cal Miller trotted out a smartly dressed team that didn't have a weak spot and the blue and red Maple boys had the edge in the play for about three-quarters of the route but Combines, who had been knocking all night on the door finally got their passing plays clicking in the final minutes and had the necessary stamina to carry them through to victory.

The first period, while spectacular, carried no punch on the offensive both teams going scoreless. Lorne Wells for Maple and Cleve Burton of Combines drew minor penalties. Roy Thompson opened the scoring at 3:30 of the second quarter as he took Jones' pass and whipped a beauty past Smith from ten feet out. Dick Taylor drew a minor, which went for a misconduct as well as he disagreed with the referee. Despite being a man short, Maple just about scored several times. Roy Burton drew a penalty for cross-checking.

The third period saw Combines vie the count at 3:30 with Roy Burton doing the honors.

Lorne Wells put Maple in front two minutes later on a spectacular bit of stick-handling. Stan Foster and Jimmy Reid drew the gate for fisticuffs, and Combines were two short as Norm Bowen drew a penalty. They were hard-pressed to withhold the Maple assault. With the teams all even, Jimmy Reid tallied at 14:00 to tie the score.

Maple sifted through for two fast counters in the final period. Stan Foster scoring at 2:45 and Thompson extending the lead with Cleve Burton off. Maple had a goal disallowed a moment later with a man in the crease. Hughie Kerr got one back for Combines at 8:30 on a long breakaway. Hughie made it even-Stephen at 12:30 from H. Burton. Combines scored again but it was called back as illegal and it looked as if overtime was to be played until Cleve Burton sifted through to blink the red-light with 40 seconds to go.

Hughie Kerr, Cleve Burton, Ray Burton, Jimmy Reid and Smith were the topdogs for the winners. Roy Thompson, Stan Foster, Dick Taylor, Harry Hooper and Lorne Wells were the standouts for Maple along with goalie Rumble.

Combines: Smith, Wark, Bowen, Harry Burton, Cleve Burton, Hugh Kerr, Ray Burton; subs, W. Bowen, B. Thompson, J. Elliott, J. Reid, S. Johnston.

Maple: Harry Rumble, Dick Taylor, Larry Hooper, Stan Foster, Lorne Wells, Jim Jones, Roy Thompson; subs, Jack Denby, Jim Witherspoon, Harvey Wilson, Al Orr, Gord Orr, Al McNair, Tom Armitage.

Referee, Ab. Hulse; judge-of-play, Charlie Rowntree.

Twins Alternate To Best University Star Milers

Coach Horace Kendall and the boys at St. Andrew's College pulled one for the books on Saturday at the Old Boys-School athletic meet at the college last Saturday.

In the mile race, one of the features of the card, John Ballon, McGill University, and Joe Taylor, University of Toronto, two of the leading intercollegiate middle distance runners, were bested by a college youth in the fast time of 4:25, which caused the spectators to rub their eyes unbelievably.

Then the hoax was revealed. Alike as two peas strode out Harold and Gordon Middleton, twin brothers from Huntsville, present students at the college to receive the award.

The brothers had alternately run the 440-yard laps against the field, changing places every lap from behind a screen and scoreboard at the far end of the track. So much alike are the boys that few if any guessed what was happening. The brothers kept behind the university stars until the last lap, when one of the two burst into a sprint the older boys couldn't match and crossed the tape in front fresh as a daisy.

The Old Boys took the track meet and the swimming events but lost out in cricket.

ATTEMPT TO REVIVE AURORA TENNIS CLUB

Headed by Dr. C. R. Boulding, Wilfred Adams and other tennis enthusiasts, an attempt is being made this year to re-organize the Aurora Tennis Club which has been defunct the past four years. A meeting is being held in the east room of the old town hall this evening at 8 p.m. to which all who are interested are invited.

"Primarily the club will be to give our young people a means of healthy recreation," Dr. Boulding said. "It will give the older players a chance for the occasional game, but we are anxious to develop the younger players. There seems to be quite an interest in tennis this year and we are hoping the council will lend a hand to put the courts in shape."

Councillor Stewart Patrick, who heads the sports committee of council, has promised to look over the present courts and it is expected that some steps will be taken by the municipality to restore the courts to good shape.

Seek Prompt Action To Set Up Aurora High School Area

Unless special permission is obtained from York county council this session to re-open the question of establishing a high school area for the Aurora district, chances of getting the area established and in effect in 1947 seems remote, as county council set over the matter until the November session of county council on Friday.

The consultative committee of York county council committee on education, in their report to county council, suggested the matter be left over until November, with the exception of North York township which presented to council a clear-cut statement of their demands, and won approval. Attempts by representatives of King township, Whitchurch township and Markham township to have the areas passed by their respective councils were defeated in council. The main objection taken by the southern members being that the pattern was incomplete and sufficient data had not been provided.

On Monday evening, Dr. G. W. Williams and Principal J. H. Knowles met with the Aurora council, and presented a defined area, together with map and assessment and population figures worked out for the proposed area. The population shows 10,600, and the assessment shows $7,276,000.

"We are hoping our county council representatives can get this matter re-opened as our plans for the future depend on knowing just where we stand," Dr. G. W. Williams told council. "We want to be able to plan our bus routes ahead and provide for new courses that will be needed. It's going to take quite a while to go ahead with the plan even if passed now. If it isn't passed this session we won't be able to get it at until 1948."

The report filed by the secretary of the high school board was conflicting. It mentioned Vaughan and Markham townships as well as King and Whitchurch which caused confusion in the minds of the council as to just what was intended. These figures weren't available then," said Reeve C. E. Sparks.

"The consultative committee felt they should have the whole county picture before them before taking any action," said Deputy-Reeve Asa Cook. "There are many municipalities such as Richmond Hill, Newmarket, and to the north that have not indicated their desire for the plan. The committee felt it must have all the patches in this patchwork quilt before they could see what was going to happen. I don't know if we can get the matter re-opened and no one seems to be able to decide what's going to happen."

"There shouldn't be any hesitation now," said Principal J. H. Knowles. "The area proposed and the facts and figures are all there. The consultative committee could easily follow it. It doesn't present any difficulty as we are the only high school at present in the area. We are not in the same position as some sections of the county. If this area isn't approved now, it will mean the greater part of the school taxes will continue to go from King and Whitchurch towards the big expensive schools in the south. They want to go in with us, I can't see how school taxes can be higher under the plan. They should be much lower."

Council passed a resolution complying with the request of the Aurora board and in line with that passed already by King and Whitchurch. The present Aurora high school board will be dissolved when the scheme is finally approved and the school will belong to the whole area, with all liabilities and running expenses or future building being done by the whole area.

On Wednesday Warden Fred G. Gardiner announced that he will grant the request for a re-hearing by county council of the applications for the creation of high school areas and if necessary, will call a special one-day session in order that if the matter is approved it may be forwarded to the department of education as is requested by June 30.

Horticultural Society Has First Showing Of Season

Grant B. of T. Right To Have Carnival

The Aurora Board of Trade was granted permission to hold a street dance and carnival on Yonge St. on Thursday, June 27. Permission to hold a bingo was requested, but under the ruling of the attorney-general's department no council or municipal official can grant permission for holding a bingo, so the Board of Trade will run bingo on their own. It was felt this came under the head of "occasional bingos."

Discussion arose as to the advisability of holding carnivals and street dances on the main street, and it was felt that while this was not desirable in view of traffic conditions, the precedent had been established and there should be no discrimination.

"If you go elsewhere the receipts drop down around 50 percent," said Deputy-Reeve A. A. Cook.

WITH THE CHURCHES

He was a member of Aurora Lodge, No. 148, I.O.O.F., under whose auspices the funeral was held. He was a member of Aurora Baptist church, and the funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. R. TOWN SEEKS NEW GARBAGE CONTRACT

Aurora town council is seeking a new garbage collector following the resignation of A. E. Hawkins, who has held the present contract the past three years. The present contract terminable on one month's notice by either party, calls for $2,200 a year. The contractor supplies his own dumping grounds. Mr. Hawkins gave notice to end his services on June 30 due to pressure of other work, and the fact that present dumping arrangements may not be available.

"It may come to it that we have to supply our own dump outside the municipality," Mayor Ross Linton warned. "Let the contractor worry about that," said Councillor Stewart Patrick. "They have always been able to find a spot in the past and at the price paid it should be included."

Council Hears Plan To Share Cost Of Diverting Stream

Lees O'ram, secretary-treasurer of the Collis Leather Co., outlined to Aurora town council on Monday evening the recommendation of engineer W. B. Redfern, and the company's plan for re-routing the stream flowing through the property, and the sewage problems involved to allow for any future expansion of the plant.

Under present conditions, the creek bounds the east side of the plant, and with additional space needed, the plant is unable to expand without changing the flow of the stream and revamping the sewage system.

Under the proposals the stream would be diverted easterly at the south of the plant, travel around the rear of the present Chapman property about 75 feet, it would then swing north in a straight course and re-enter the present creek-bed on Tyler St. and continue its flow in the present manner. The 100 feet from the street line back will be enclosed in a cement tunnel. Aside from improving the property and providing building space, it is felt that contemplated arrangements would facilitate the flow of water and any debris in the creek.

While definite figures have not been secured, Mr. O'ram suggested the work which involves laying of new pipe and considerable excavating might cost as much as $14,000. He outlined to the municipality that part of the plans which involve work on town property and which might ordinarily be done by the municipality, and requested the council to share half the costs of this part of the job. Estimated figure was around $6,000, with the town's share being around $3,000, and it was hoped this figure might be reduced by tenders.

The matter was referred to the committee dealing with streets and water improvements in town, the municipality taking the matter under consideration and making no commitments. It was pointed out that in 1941 the firm and the town had equally borne costs in a sewage disposal problem, but at a cost of only $300 each.

The request from the Collis firm raised the necessity of immediate action to secure the pipe, tile and equipment needed for the extension of Edward St. and other new streets, which has not yet been ordered.

"The committee had better get some orders placed or we'll not be able to do the work this year," said Mayor Ross Linton.

"The materials needed are such that it will be hard to get delivery before three months," said Councillor William West.

"We are awaiting estimates from Mr. Redfern, the engineer," said Deputy-Reeve A. A. Cook. "We have his report as to the work, but not what is needed. As soon as we get that, we can go ahead."

Mr. West reported on the George St. extension, and suggested it be left over until next year. "We have enough work in hand this year, and if we get it done we'll be very lucky," he said. He reported the owners concerned did not want to meet the town on the plans made, and had the idea of opening up further building lots in the area. It would be necessary to take expropriation proceedings if no agreement could be reached. "I think they hope that we'll do just that," said Mr. West.

Town Clerk Harold Clark, who was sitting in at his first session, was bonded for $5,000 through Harry Corner, and William Large's bond for $5,000 was renewed with Frank Underhill. Mr. Clark was also authorized by-law to deal with the town business and finances. He will prepare a report for the central marketing and housing board showing housing needs in Aurora.

Receives Guide Badge From Lady Baden-Powell

Aurora Girl Guides, 30 strong, took part in the welcome accorded Lady Baden-Powell, Chief Girl Guide of the World, in the central Ontario area Guide rally at Oshawa on Wednesday, June 5.

Guide Anne Boulding of the 1st Aurora troop was thrilled as she received from the hands of the chief Guide her 1st class badge and congratulations. The Aurora troop was under the command of Capt. Betty Cody and Lieut. Margaret Mackay. Mrs. Hugh McRae, commissioner for the Aurora area, was present as were many mothers of the Guides. The party made the trip to Oshawa by bus, and Guides were present from as far north as Parry Sound.

ers for winning the group, and the midgets received crests. The coaches, Fred Collings and Keith Stevens, were similarly honored. Tom Burns is coaching Markham's junior entry in the York Lions baseball league, and Doug James, who handled Markham juniors the past two winters, is looking after the midgets. The two ex-servicemen should do a lot to improve the brand of ball played down Markham way. Ken Laushway heads the committee in charge of baseball at Stouffville. Others back for another year include Elmer Daniels, Don Lewis, Ken Wagg and Len Wilkes. Stouffville was a doubtful starter for a while but is back in the groove now. It might be plenty good in junior. The tip is out to watch Milliken, which walloped the pants off Richmond Hill juniors in its first start. Milliken boys will be fighting it out with Newmarket. In midget it should boil down to Aurora and Richmond Hill. We could be wrong, but that's the way the wisecracks call it at the start of the season.

The Tri-County Baseball league has been revived but the only trouble is there are no entries from York county, all being from Ontario and Victoria counties. There are two groups, Sunderland, Canington, Woodville, Bolsover, Mun'ia; and Valentia, Little Britain, Lindsay, Cambray and Cameron. Next year the lads from this way should be ready to go to bat in intermediate company, and they'll find the league ready for them.

A Five-club softball circuit has started down in the south end of the county with Markham, Unionville, Cedar Grove, Buttonville Junior Farmers comprising the quintet. All five are evenly matched.

Nip Spooner, of Camp Borden and Aurora R.C.O.C., back now in Collingwood, is playing softball in the Collingwood town league and also back to baseball of the intermediate variety.

Got any junior hockey players? If you have, you'd better have them tucked safely away or else you may lose them. Ike Harper, coach of Stouffville juniors, is on the prowl for next year, and already is reported to have nabbed two of the best young forwards in the district for next winter's team. We don't know what inducements are being offered to play for Stouffville, but Harper is not letting any grass grow under his feet. While it's nice to have players already for winter in June, it's much nicer to see them actually skate out on the ice, Ike, and there's many a slip.

Labor Day has been pegged by Aurora Canadian Legion for a bang-up, three-ring sports day that should bring back memories of the 20's to Aurora. Cycling races, softball, marathon racing, baseball, girls' softball are being contemplated along with many new features. Much more will be said about it later, but let's have no conflicting dates, fellows. A house-league of four teams has been organized by the Aurora Vets, with Heath Hamilton, Nels Anderson, Bill Hadfield and Howard Anderson named as managers. The membership has been allotted around amongst the teams. A golf tournament for branch members and district vets is also on the agenda while under the leadership of Heath Hamilton, an expert swimmer and teacher of swimming, it is expected to start a course in swimming and lifesaving for members which will be extended to Aurora youngsters over the summer. Ray White, former Aurora softballer, is chairman of the branch's sports committee. Aurora will also definitely be represented in the all-Ontario Canadian Legion softball play-offs, having been granted a bye until the play-off rounds start. Exhibition games will be played throughout the summer.

Horse shoe tossing is to be set up in the Aurora town park under the lights, it is expected, and Bill Mugford and some of the oldtimers who are really smart at the ringer business will have lots of fun. St. Andrew's College track team just failed to take the prep school title last week by one little point. With one event left, the intermediate broad jump, Upper Canada led by five points. St. Andrew's took first and third, but a Trinity man took second, to give them only four points. It was a tough break for coach Horace Kendall. Big star of the meet was Jack Rhame of S.A.C. in the senior. He set two records, doing the hurdles in 15.4, and jumping 20' 8 1/2" in the running broad. Both are big performances for schoolboy athletes. Collett of S.A.C., in the intermediate section, was only seven inches short of the senior mark, another sterling effort. Pickering College finished fourth with 127 points, 20 back of the winners. Maguire took the intermediate high jump at 5' 4". Al Maughan just phoned to say the classiest bunch of hunters to face a jumping barrier since pre-war days, redcoats and all, will be at Aurora Horse Show on June 8. "It's positively sensational, terrific and four-star," said Al thumbing through the entries. Aurora girl softballers go to Long Branch next Monday to play the C.W.A.C. at that centre. The Aurora handlers say "It's a cinch."

May 30—York county council members acted Tuesday to try and cut down the increasing traffic toll. Approval was given to a resolution asking that the minister of highways consider having the owners of all vehicles over ten years submit a certificate of mechanical sufficiency when application is made for renewal of a license, and ordering that proven financial ability shall be furnished by all owners of vehicles when applying for a license.

The latter suggestion mentioned the sums of $1,000 property damage and $5,000 and $10,000 public liability. Warden F. G. Gardiner stated he had found that much suffering had been inflicted upon innocent victims of careless, uninsured drivers. Several members of the council were skeptical of the move. However, suggestions now go to the minister.

In his report to the county council Wednesday, Chief George Stuart told the members that his men had a busy session last year. Increased crime in the county forced the men to the limit, he said, but that no serious condition went unsolved. Chief Stuart reported there were 15 percent more criminal cases dealt with by the county police in 1945. "We contemplate a further increase this year after reviewing the records of the past few years."

Chief Stuart's report showed that 495 complaints were handled during 1945, and it is expected this will increase to 550 during 1946. It is also reported that the population of the county has increased from 240,000 to 302,487 during the past eight years.

Careful planning of the county's finances during the past ten or 12 years are beginning to show results now, Reeve F. G. MacRae, chairman of the county finance committee, told the council on Wednesday. "By the end of 1951, the county debt will be wiped out at the present rate of going. But carefully planned spending is still necessary."

It was decided to consider the engagement of a competent historian to write the county's history.

22nd Sports Day Hailed Biggest 'n' Bestest Ever

Saturday morning dawned in rather a gloomy way and it was doubtful whether to go on or postpone our Sports Day. However preparations went on, hoping for nice weather which came later and though cool, it was grand for a record crowd of several thousand which thronged the park both afternoon and evening enjoying the sports and ball games.

Newmarket came first in baseball with Mount Albert second and Clarendon third.

In horse shoe pitching, Glendenning and Stouffer of Stouffville won out with Alf. Hill and Jack Carr, Mount Albert, second, and Fred King and Frank Mc-
Shane, third.

The loud speaker kept everyone informed on all that was taking place on the grounds and all the business places of the community. Mr. Hollinger had a large new bus on the grounds for inspection. The booth was headquarters for hot dogs and cold drinks and was kept busy till the end of the day.

The Baby Show was an attractive spot with Mrs. G. W. E.
Macpherson in charge and Dr.
M. G. Peever of Newmarket as judge. Winners in babies up to seven months, Linda Lunau, first; Carol Lunau, second, both of Toronto; 8-18 months, Robt.
Harrison, first; Douglas Travis, second, Mount Albert; and 19-30 months, Mary Lehman, first;
Linda Rutledge, Mount Albert.

50 Bushel Wheat Club Organized In York

Of the 50,000,000 bushels of winter wheat produced in Ontario in a normal year, York county, a large producer of this cash crop, grows approximately one million bushels. The County
Crop Improvement Association announces a special contest amongst the growers. A 50 Bushel Winter Wheat club similar to the one organized in South Simcoe last year has been set up.

Six or eight counties are organized this year and it is expected entries will be selected in each club to compete at the Royal Winter Fair which is reopening in November. There must be at least ten contestants with a minimum of five acres and W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative, who is secretary of the association, says he is expecting at least 25 contestants.

A milling company has offered $100 in prize money and almost as much more has been secured to make a prize list. As it is open to the whole county, a canvass of growers cannot be made. It is hoped that all interested growers with fields that have wintered well, will write to Mr. Cockburn, Newmarket, to enrol or ask for further particulars.

One set of prizes will be given on the field score, another on yield, and possibly another on a bushel exhibit of threshed grain.
The contest will be repeated in 1946-47 with the use of registered seed.

In Memoriam

Collingwood—In loving memory of a dear uncle, John Collingwood, who passed away June 7, 1945.

One precious to our hearts has gone,
The voice we loved is stilled;
A place made vacant in our home
That never can be filled.
Sadly missed by Orval, Ruby and family.

Collingwood—In loving memory of John Collingwood, who passed away June 7, 1945.

Just you, today, I'm thinking
But then, dear uncle, that's nothing new
For I thought of you yesterday
And the day before that, too.
I will think of you tomorrow
And each day all through the year,
I will think of you forever,
For to me you were so dear.
Loving niece, Grace.

Heath—In proud and loving memory of a dear son and brother, Pte. W. J. (Bill) Heath, Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa, killed in action, Normandy invasion, June 7, 1944.

This world may change from year to year
And friends from day to day;
But never shall the one we loved
From memory pass away.
Ever remembered by mom, dad, sisters and brother.

Prosser—In memory of our dear mother, Joanna Murrell Prosser, who passed away June 1, 1940.

You're not forgotten mother dear,
Nor ever shall you be,
As long as life and memory last
Our guiding star you'll be.
Ever remembered by Arill, Muriel, Betty, Gladys, Mildred, Earl.

Williamson—In loving memory of our dear son, Douglas, who passed away June 8, 1940.

We are thinking of you today, dear Douglas,
But then, that's nothing new.
We thought about you yesterday,
And the day before that, too.
We will think of you tomorrow
And each day through all the year.
In fact we will think of you forever.

For to us you were so dear.
Ever remembered by Mama, daddy and brother.

As is customary during the summer months, The Newmarket Era and Express will be open Saturday nights from 7 to 9.

News On Recreation

By Dick Mather, Recreation Co-ordinator

Recreation for younger people involves activities which are mainly of physical and group nature. Team sports are usually the most popular, organized competitions and other activities which involve the use of equipment and facilities. Adults are able to make their own plans and they have the organizational and financial abilities to back them up and carry them through, but the youth, not being quite so independent requires assistance in many ways. Use of facilities must be supervised, a certain amount of leadership must be provided, and financial support must be almost wholly contributed. For the small children, these must all be completely provided.

The Newmarket Community Recreation Council, which is the representative body for the people of Newmarket in this field, will be able to provide some of this assistance but if adequate opportunities for all ages are to be provided, then much of this assistance must come from the people themselves. There are many ways by which everyone can help and this column today will endeavor to outline some of them.

First, and most important, is leadership. To have a team of any kind, there must be at least a manager, and there should be a coach. To use expensive facilities there must be some supervision. To provide playgrounds and play areas for small children, there should be both leadership and supervision. To organize a sports league, for instance, there must also be people who will be willing to referee, umpire, score, etc., even if they can only help out once a month. The schools are willing to have their play equipment used after school hours, and on weekends, provided they are supervised. In all these spheres direct participation is needed and volunteers are required to help broaden the scope of recreational activities.

But if assistance cannot be given in this way, then there are other means, of infinite variety. Individuals themselves will be better able to suggest how and to what extent they would be able and like to help. Transportation for the various teams this summer will be one contribution; if you have a car, one trip to a neighboring town with a carload of young ball-players will help increase enjoyment for both the youngsters and yourself. If you can hammer a nail, it means more sand-boxes can be provided; even if you have some old planks lying around, they would be a useful contribution. You yourself will be able to think of many ways in which you will be able to provide help; anything ranging from suggestion and advice to legacies and participation will enable all concerned to make a broader and more enjoyable use of their leisure time.

Baseball
The newly organized midgets have played two games, Aurora here, and Stouffville away. The second game showed a 300 per cent improvement, the score this time being only 10-3 against them; and with "Rudy" Ruddock, Bill Haskett and Eddie Gibson now taking them over, they should go on to still greater achievements.

Both midgets and juniors are pitching in to help get the hardball diamond in shape. With the co-operation of Frank Bowser's and Datus Crowder's "Works and Bricks" department, the financial assistance of the recreation council, and the engineering ability of Geo. Haskett and Mickey Smith, the playing field is being rapidly improved.

The Cycling Club, under Bob Benville, has plans made for weekly racing events open to all and every age. Club members are hoping later in the summer to take some trips to points of interest in the nearby vicinity. Membership is open to those of any age who are interested; the fees are small, 15 cents per month.

The Tennis Club shows signs of great activity; almost any time Charlie Lee can be seen down there with hoe and rake preparing the three courts. But more help would make the job easier and quicker. Membership for the season has now passed the 50 mark and all signs point to a strong and active club.

The Bowling Club is having an open evening this week to which all interested are invited to come and try their hand. They are planning also to provide some time during the week for younger people of school age and to give instruction and practice games to those interested in learning.

The Youth Committee is having a meeting Thursday evening at the fire-hall to discuss ideas for activities of their own. Those that would be interested in learning the delicate skill and art of lawn-bowling and getting into some of the games should appear at this meeting.

PAINTINGS SAID

There is some of this feeling of child in all people who would be painters of pictures or carvers of carvings. But since childhood much has been added to the artist's equipment and it is not as simple a procedure to produce a work as it was for the child. Experiences of all manner, the artist's level of maturity and ability to absorb his time, contribute to the final picture in various degrees. So that to gain the spontaneity of child-thought considerable adult thinking is necessary.

The building of a successful picture is one of man's finest achievements. When we consider the respect paid to Michelangelo or to Rembrandt by generations of world citizens, the value of pictures may be realized.

With maturity, the artist has gained an intellect that is capable of retaining a sensation until it is recorded in an intelligible manner. His memory is awakened so that sensations or impressions can be recalled as often as may be needed to complete the work. The reasoning ability of the picture-maker will mark all of his designs, his understanding of color and tone will control the emotional quality of his work, so that the final product is as clear a statement of thinking as it is of a momentary sensation.

But pictures are not painted with thoughts and sensations alone, nor are books written, nor is music made, without an understanding and a respect for the technical requirements of the art. The draughtsman knows his pencils, chalks, pens and charcoal as well as papers and stamps and erasers. The water-colorist is familiar with pigments ground in gums, sable brushes, the finest of rag papers to insure the permanence of the transparent washes employed in a water-color. The painter in oil controls his paint with turpentine, linseed oil and varnish, so that any thickness of paint may be attained. Hog-hair brush or finest sable for detail leave their paint on wood panels or employ canvas tacked to wooden supports. The carver has gouges, chisels, sharpening stones, and a knowledge of the grains of woods. There is work required to understand the tools and materials that make a picture, much patience is necessary to possess an appreciation of the sympathetic willingness of tools in the hands of an earnest workman.

However, when the work of another painter is copied, the creative value of the resulting picture is necessarily very low. And it is unfortunate that the Newmarket Arts Club has allowed its members to hang copied paintings, particularly when they are not labelled as copies and naturally accepted as original works by those unfamiliar with the source of the design. A painting by J. W. Beatty was copied and hung in this exhibition as an original work. The drawing by Beatty is a fine work, ranking with the best of Canadian art. The copy does not do it justice and it is unfair to the memory of a great Canadian artist and teacher of artists to have had so little esteem for him.

OTTAWA LETTER

"Jack" Smith, M.P.

The office of speaker of the house is a high and important one calling for rare gifts of patience and tact. The speaker is not only the presiding officer of the house but is also the guardian of the rights and privileges of the members. In Canada, it is the custom to change speakers each parliament, alternating between English and French-speaking members. The speaker of the last parliament was Hon. James A. Glen from Manitoba, and the present speaker is the mild and gracious Dr. Gaspard Fauteux of Quebec.

The speaker is provided with chambers and a staff off the corridor immediately north of the House of Commons on the main floor of the building. At five minutes to three o'clock each afternoon, he moves in formal procession from his chambers to the house. He is preceded by three officers of the law and by the sergeant-at-arms carrying the mace, the symbol of authority, and is followed by the clerk of the house and the assistant clerk. He and the clerk and assistant clerk are similarly garbed. They all wear ancient-looking, black, tri-colored hats and black gowns. The corridors are cleared to permit the procession to pass. This ancient custom is quite impressive. As the speaker enters the house the division bells ring to summon the members to the chamber.

When the speaker takes his place in the speaker's chair, he and the clerk and assistant clerk remove their hats. The speaker reads the prayers at the opening, alternating from day to day between English and French versions. The public is not admitted to the galleries until after the prayers are read.

The clerk of the house holds an office of the highest importance. The present incumbent is Dr. Arthur Beauchene, C.M.G., L.L.D., who has had a long career as clerk, and is recognized as the greatest authority in Canada today on parliamentary procedure. He is expected to retire at an early date and last year an assistant clerk, Roy Graham of Swift Current, Saskatchewan, was appointed.

Greatly expanded scientific research work by the National Research Council, as outlined in a government resolution sponsored by reconstruction minister C. D. Howe, was accorded hearty support from all groups in the commons this week.

Mr. Howe stated the government had decided that the peace-time needs for scientific research should be maintained on the same order of magnitude as during the recent war. The council's program for the ensuing year will cost $6,378,000, quite apart from atomic energy work, requiring expanded staff and laboratory accommodation.

A delightful social event of last week was a lobster dinner given by Henry McCulloch, the popular member for Pictou, N.S. The McCulloch lobster party is an annual institution on Parliament Hill and is an occasion when guests of the genial host may eat lobsters in unrationed quantities. The delectable sea food is piled high on the tables and you just eat all you want. There were about 97 guests and the lobster consumed was about 300 pounds, and coming from Pictou, of course, were the very choicest.

Speculation here centres round the budget to be presented soon. Just when is a closely guarded secret as are its provisions and proposals.

WEDDING HAS AURORA INTEREST

On May 24, in Giebe Road United church, Toronto, Jean Alison, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rushworth, of Aurora and Toronto, was married to Paul W., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Burkholder, Toronto. Rev. F. W. L. Brailey officiated.

The bride wore white embroidered rayon, with moulded midriff, long torso effect and front panel. Her tiny skull cap had a semi-veil, and she carried a white and silver Bible with streamers and Sweetheart roses. The maid of honor, Jeanne Cockshutt, was gown in pale blue taffeta with flared skirt and a V-neck with lace trim. She had a lace-trimmed skull cap and nosegay of Tullismania roses. The best man was Harold Wieser.

The bride's mother wore a blue and navy ensemble, and the groom's mother was in gray and navy. For the wedding trip to the U.S., the bride donned a tweed suit with tan accessories. The couple will reside at the country home of the bride's parents, south of Aurora, which is known as The Pines.

The house elects a deputy speaker, who acts as chairman of the committee-of-the-whole. He also takes the speaker's place when the speaker is unable to attend but does not wear the speaker's gown and hat.

When the speaker is not in the chair, the mace rests on the table of the house. When the speaker leaves the chair at adjournment of the house, the mace, borne by the sergeant-at-arms, precedes him. When the speaker leaves the chair at the times the house resolves itself into committee-of-the-whole, the mace is removed from the table and placed under the table.

The speaker has jurisdiction over the staff of the House of Commons. The staff includes the clerk of the house, officials of the house, secretarial staff, debates office staff, dining-room, cafeteria, house-pages, messengers and others. In practice the officials and staff of the House of Commons are responsible to the clerk of the house.
